SEA KAYAKING

Freycinet is a great place for sea kayaking. Summer sea breezes can be strong on hot days, so early starts are recommended and it is good to get the latest weather reports before heading out. Most of the paddling is in Great Oyster Bay. The outside coastline of the peninsula is only for experienced paddlers as there are few, if any, take-outs (all cliffs) on the sea-side of the peninsula.

SURFING & WINDSURFING

When the winds and swell are right Friendly Beaches offers great surfing. Summer sea breezes can also create great windsurfing conditions in Great Oyster Bay and Coles Bay.

ROCK CLIMBING

Freycinet National Park has a number of great granite climbing areas. The highest concentration of climbs is centred around whitewater wall, sea cliff climbs. There is a climbers camp near whitewater wall, inside the national park. Access is by a 4wd track or vehicle with good clearance.

DAY WALKS & SCENIC DRIVES

Strap on your walking boots and enjoy one of the many short, half day, or overnight walking tracks around the peninsula. If walking is not your style, hop in the car and take a scenic drive to Cape Tourville or Friendly Beaches to enjoy the sights.

BOATING

Boating on the Freycinet Peninsula offers breathtaking views of the Freycinet coastline, crystal-clear waters, and abundant marine life. From cruising to Wineglass Bay, exploring secluded coves & fishing there's no shortage of scenic spots to discover on a boating adventure in this stunning part of the world.
